Terms of Reference

Definition

Endorsing partners of the Resilient Cities 2018 Congress are organizations that are working in a field relevant to urban resilience and adaptation to climate change and wish to associate themselves with the global forum.

Role and Obligations

The Endorsing partner supports the Congress by:

- Promoting it via its media;
- Inviting its constituency to participate in the Congress and its call for contributions (open from 8 September 2017 to 1 November 2017); and
- Providing ideas for the program.

Benefits

- The endorsing partner will be presented with name and logo on all Congress promotional materials.
- Two representatives of the endorsing partner organization will benefit from a reduced participation fee.
- Endorsing partners are offered the opportunity to have a display stand in the Congress exhibition area at a reduced cover charge.
- Endorsing partners' events are featured on the Resilient Cities Series website: Partners' Events webpage.
- Endorsing partners' thematically relevant publications may be included in the Resilience Library.

Working modalities

Endorsing partners will receive regular updates on Congress preparations. They will inform ICLEI on their activities promoting the Congress and concerning program ideas.
